HELPING YOU AND YOUR FAMILY AFTER A DISASTER

A guide to assist you with federal assistance after a disaster

“Disaster preparedness is essential for ensuring that constituents are ready in case of accidents, natural disasters, and other catastrophic events. My office has put together the following information on federal assistance and resources available. Please be sure to contact my district office with any additional questions.”

-Congressman Juan Vargas
Introduction: There are a number of programs throughout the federal government designed to help you meet essential needs, as well as assist you and your family in taking the first steps to recovery after a disaster. The information contained in this packet is designed to be a starting point in directing you to the agencies and programs that will best serve your needs. For a more comprehensive review of what is available, please contact the nearest Constituent Services Center located in the 51st Congressional District of California.

To begin the process and familiarize yourself with the assistance that the federal government provides, please visit www.disasterassistance.gov. This website serves as a one-stop disaster assistance page where you can: obtain information for preparing for a disaster; review all the agencies and disaster programs that they offer; take a pre-screen questionnaire for an accurate list of programs that you may qualify for; apply for federal disaster assistance; and review the status of a submitted application.

Federal Emergency Management Association (FEMA):

For information on FEMA assistance, please visit their website at www.fema.gov or call 1-800-621-FEMA (1-800-621-3362). FEMA asks that you have the following information ready when you contact them:

- Your Social Security number
- A description of your losses that were caused by the disaster
- Insurance information
- Directions to your damaged property
- A telephone number where you can be reached

Assistance that may be available through FEMA includes:

1) Housing Needs

- Temporary Housing (a place to live for a limited period of time): Money is available to rent a different place to live or a government provided housing unit when rental properties are not available. Search for information about housing rental resources.
- Repair: Money is available to homeowners to repair damage from the disaster to their primary residence that is not covered by insurance. The goal is to make the damaged home safe, sanitary, and functional.
- Replacement: Money is available to homeowners to replace their home destroyed in the disaster that is not covered by insurance. The goal is to help the homeowner with the cost of replacing their destroyed home.
- Permanent Housing Construction: Direct assistance or money for the construction of a home. This type of help occurs only in insular areas or remote locations specified by FEMA, where no other type of housing assistance is possible. This type of assistance is unlikely to be available in the 51st District.
2) Other than Housing Needs - Money is available for necessary expenses and serious needs caused by the disaster. This includes:
  - Disaster-related medical and dental costs
  - Disaster-related funeral and burial cost
  - Clothing household items (room furnishing, appliances), tools (specialized or protective clothing and equipment) required for your job, necessary educational materials (computers, school books, supplies)
  - Fuels for primary heat force (heating oil, gas)
  - Clean-up items (wet/dry vacuum, dehumidifier)
  - Disaster damaged vehicle
  - Moving and storage expenses related to the disaster (moving and storing property to avoid additional disaster damage while disaster-related repairs are being made to the home)
  - Other necessary expenses or serious needs as determined by FEMA
  - Other expenses that are authorized by law

3) Additional Services
  - Crisis Counseling
  - Disaster Unemployment Assistance
  - Legal Services
  - Special Tax Considerations

U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA):

For information on USDA assistance, please visit their website at www.usda.gov/disaster. The USDA provides assistance in a number of different ways through the Farm Service Agency, the Rural Development office, National Resources Conservation Service and the Food and Nutrition Service. Below is a list of local and/or regional offices for the USDA that can assist you with any questions or information.

U.S. Small Business Administration:

The Small Business Administration’s (SBA) Office of Disaster Assistance provides low interest disaster loans to homeowners, renters, businesses of all sizes and private, non-profit organizations to repair or replace real estate, personal property, machinery and equipment, inventory, and business assets that have been damaged or destroyed in a declared disaster. For more information about services provided by the SBA visit www.sba.gov or call the SBA customer care center at 1-800-659-2955.

Below are several SBA loan programs for which you may qualify:

- Home and Personal Property Loans - A homeowner, renter and/or personal property owner in a designated disaster area may qualify for an SBA loan to help recover from a disaster.
- Business Physical Disaster Loan - Any business or private, nonprofit organization that is located in a declared disaster area and has incurred damage during the disaster may apply for a loan to help replace damaged property or restore it to the condition it was in before the disaster.
- Economic Injury Disaster Loans - If your small business or private, nonprofit organization has suffered economic injury, regardless of physical damage, and is located in a declared disaster area, you may be eligible for financial assistance.
- Military Reservists Economic Injury Loans - The Military Reservist Economic Injury Disaster Loan program (MREIDL) provides funds to help an eligible small business meet ordinary and necessary operating expenses that it could have met, but is unable to meet, because an essential employee was called-up to active duty in their role as a military reservist.

Conclusion: The general information in this packet is not a comprehensive list of all disaster assistance programs offered by the federal government. Please contact your most convenient Congressman Vargas Constituent Service Center for more information and for assistance throughout the entire disaster assistance application process. Any of these centers will help you with disaster assistance and will not simply refer you to a federal agency where you may run into the usual red tape and bureaucracy.
